DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear if Applicant intends claim 14 to depend from claim 1, or simply reference claim 1 with respect to intended use. If Applicant does intend claim 14 to further limit claim 1 which it references, then, it is unclear how Applicant intends it to further limit claim 1, since claim 1 already recites a particle catcher. It is unclear what statutory class of invention Applicant intends to set forth in claim 14, method or apparatus?

Claim 14 provides for the use of an assembly, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Miller (US 4,764,274). Housing 17 is seen to constitute a particle catcher. For the purposes of this rejection, claim 14 has been interpreted as an independent apparatus claim.

Interview Summary Record

The Examiner contacted Mr. Fox on September 10, 2004, to request authorization to cancel claim 14 in order to put the case in condition for allowance. Mr. Fox was unwilling to authorize cancellation of claim 14.
